Dear Baroness Buscombe

Thank you for sending me a copy of 'Perspectives: A look at 2010 through the eyes of the people who came into contact with the Press Complaints Commission.'

I also came into contact with the Press Complaints Commission during 2010 and I had a mixed view on my experiences.

Indeed, on 27 April 2011 I promoted an adjournment debate in the House of Commons on the self regulation of the press and in particular the PPC's editors code of practice.

I have recently written to Stephen Abell and I enclose a copy of that letter with my views on two particular points.

I trust this information is of some interest to you.

Yours sincerely

MICHAEL McCANN MP
